

Give Credit Where It's Due

Perfectionists often neglect giving ourselves credit for what we have accomplished – especially what we consider “small” things.

Think about the past day or two. Give yourself credit for the small, insignificant, or seemingly silly things you have done. Write as many responses to the prompt below as you can.

Yay for me! I have...